

Now Hiring at Reptiles Alive LLC

Wildlife Educator / Reptile Show Presenter

We are looking for a reliable, responsible, and energetic person who loves reptiles, kids, and public speaking.

PART TIME, FLEXIBLE schedule:

5-10 (more or less) hours per week (primarily weekends and evenings, with weekday work available in June/July/August)

Pay: $75 - $125 per program performed

Location: Our facility is located in Annandale, VA. Educator will perform programs throughout the Virginia, Maryland, and Washington, D.C. area.

Duties: The educator will present educational live animal shows for a variety of audiences including: childrens' birthday parties, preschool & school programs, camps, special events, and more. The educator will safely handle a variety of live amphibians, invertebrates and reptiles (including non-venomous snakes.)

Requirements:

- Must be extremely responsible, reliable, safety conscious and able to work unsupervised
- Comfortable speaking confidently and enthusiastically and entertaining large audiences of all ages, especially young children
- Comfortable handling live snakes, large lizards, and other exotic animals in a safe and professional manner
- Pass a national background check
- High school diploma
- Valid driver's license with clean driving record
- Ability to lift 50 pounds
- A reliable car, van, or covered truck that will be used to drive with live animals to show locations

Preferred applicants will have experience:

- Developing and presenting animal/environmental education programs
- Working with reptiles and amphibians or other live animals
- Driving in the Washington DC Metro area
- College courses in communication, public speaking, and biology.

Please send cover letter, resume, and three references to:

Caroline Seitz

reptilesalive@gmail.com

Website: www.reptilesalive.com